Class History

In 1938 twenty-five little first graders, full of wonder, amazement and excitement were greeted for the first time by their teacher, Miss Margaret Reed. Their twenty-five puzzled faces belonged to Jeffrey Allinger, Raymond Ball, Tom Basore, Holmes Bell, Cleon Burton, Carl Clay, Glenn Frazier, Bill Freese, Richard Frye, Robert Heath, Lewis Newman, Jr., Dan Purkepile, Don Smith, Lloyd Thompson, Buddy Whitman, Paul Zell, Marcella Bowers, Frances Freese, Mary Hughes, Roberta Rowley, Mable Shoffner, Bessie Brown, Janet Sheffer, Kathyran Gates and Phyllis Allen.

We were all very brilliant so Miss Reed passed us on to the second grade. Someone misplaced our second grade record book but during this time we lost Glenn Frazier, Bill Freese, Bob Heath, Lewis Newman, Jr., Don Smith, Buddy Whitman, Paul Zell, Frances Freese, Mary Hughes, Mable Shoffner, Janet Sheffer, Kathyran Gates and Phyllis Allen. We gained Tom Winks but soon lost him.

We journeyed on into the third grade with Miss Beckett as our teacher. We lost Richard Frye but gained Bob Barthaurer, Ralph Hubble, Jack Linaberry and Ruth Allen. Miss Beckett seemed to like us, so she passed us to the fourth grade and again tried to drill us in our studies. We gained Lois Baker and lost Ralph Hubble, Jack Linaberry, Lloyd Thompson and Tom Basore. Barbara Robbins was with us for only a short time.

We were then promoted into the fifth grade and into Mrs. Hickman's hands. We gained Damion Spicer, Carl McGuire, Wayne Dorsey, Donna Midlam and Jean Mitchell. Mrs. Hickman passed us on into the sixth grade where we lost Carl McGuire and gained Phyllis Allen and Clyde Watkins. While in the sixth grade Mrs. Hickman tried exceedingly hard to prepare us for Jr. High.

We were almost as excited upon entering the seventh grade as we had been in the first grade. We gained Richard Smith and lost Jean Mitchell, Raymond Ball, Bob Barthauer, Cleon Burton and Phyllis Allen. Richard Smith left at the end of the year. We then went on into the eighth grade where we gained Clara Mae Smith, Lloyd Thompson and lost no one.

Finally we made the ninth grade where we lost Clara Mae Smith and gained Bob Montgomery. We went on into the tenth grade where Marcella Bowers became Mrs. Edwin Corwin and Ruth Allen moved to Sidney. Irene Ashburn moved into our class from Spartinburg, Indiana and Janet Coverstone was with us for the first few weeks of school. Bob Heath returned again from Rosewood.

While in the Junior Class, Dan Purke left us for a four months stay in the army and Thad Carr joined us from Lewistown. This was a very busy year for all of us, raising money for the reception. Our play, "Hobgoblin House" proved to be quite a success.

Finally we became dignified Seniors. Everyone was excited, ordering pictures, announcements and caps and gowns. We gave a play called "Bolts And Nuts" which aided us toward our goal----a Senior trip.

The following teachers have helped us reach our goal in high school: Mr. Cameron, Mr. Latta, Mr. Allen, Mr. Lewis, Mr. Lantz, Mr. Sanders, Mr. Hurley, Mr. Elsom, Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. McCoy, Miss Winget, Mrs. Sampselle, Miss Dutton, Miss Sterz, Mrs. Simons, Mr. Dean and Mrs. Pitts.

Prophecy of Class of '50

The other night I sat down in my easy chair, leaned back and began to read my newspaper, "The World Times," 1960. The startling headlines----"Holmes Bell appointed Chief Justice to the Supreme Court"----nearly knocked me out of the chair. Just think! His career originated when he became Chief Judge of Quincy Local.

As I read on, I found that his first big case was concerned with the overloading of a plane by one of his former classmates, Bessie Brown, who now is a record-breaking aviatrix. She was arrested by State Highway Patrolman Damion Spicer, who observed the plane skimming the telephone wires. The plane was bulging with soldiers. Bessie's still hoarding soldiers, but Judge Bell said she'd just have to make a choice. Boy! Is she in a predicament!

In the Hottsy-Tottsy society column I noticed that Donna Midlam had given a party at her mansion announcing her engagement to Daniel Purke, a fabulous millionaire and owner of the Licky-Sticky Wave-Set Company. I wonder which one has the Licky-Sticky wave, Donna or Danny?

In the agricultural section, I read that Bob Heath, local veterinary, was called to the Thompson Purebred Angus Farm for one of Lloyd's prize steers. It seems that Mrs. Thompson, who used to be a Baker, fed the steer one of her muffins and the steer nearly choked to death. But after Mr. Heath took a good look at it, the steer died of a heart attack.

I was so sorry to read in the sick notes that Thad Carr was in the hospital with a punctured ear drum. He's a reporter now, and at the time of the accident, he was listening in someone's keyhole (gossip reporter, you know) and someone stuck the key in.

Here's some news that really knocked me for a loop! Jeff Allinger has taken Phil Spitalmy's position as director of the All-Girl Orchestra. They say that the cute first trumpet player is none other than Tommy Dorsey's cousin, Wayne Dorsey. I guess Wayne and Jeff really have a hot time!

I noticed that Damion took his police car to Montgomery's Garage to be overhauled and the car hasn't run since. When Bob works on a car, it never works right, but at least he has a successful business at washing car windows.

In the court news, I read that Roberta Rowley is marrying husband Number 9. They say her ring finger has turned green from over exertion. Congratulations, Number 9, Roberta!

Orchids to Irene Ashburn who has been promoted from a soda jerk to a pharmacist at the Ding Dong Bell Pharmaceutical House!

They have had a terrible wind storm in the Mid-West. It was caused by Carl Clay who just assumed the position as weather forecaster on the radio. He blew off so much that he blew through the radios causing a dreadful tragedy.

With that I closed the paper and fell back sound asleep in my chair.

Passing of the Loving Cup

- Bessie Brown-----Love lights her up like a pinball machine.
- Lloyd Thompson-----Six feet tall and every foot filled with fun.
- Bob Heath-----Always ready for a good time.
- Lois Baker-----A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches.
- Holmes Bell----- -- Once your friend, always your friend.
- Carl Clay-----You can't be a howling success by simply howling.
- Irene Ashburn-----She says things with her eyes that others waste time putting into words.
- Thad Carr-----A good listener is not only popular everywhere but after awhile he knows something.
- Wayne Dorsey-----Men of few words are the best they say.
- Donna Midlam-----No two people are alike and both are glad of it.
- Dan Purke-----Men who kiss and tell are not half as bad as those who kiss and exaggerate.
- Damion Spicer-----The happiest miser on earth---the man who saves up every friend he can make.
- Roberta Rowley-----When she drives and sticks out her hand to make a turn it means only one thing---the window is open.
- Bob Montgomery-----A boy who has a natural genius for combining business with pleasure.
- Jeff Allinger-----A wise man knows how little he knows.

Last Will and Testament

We, the class of 1950, being of sound mind and body do hereby declare this to be our last will and testament:

- I, Jeffrey Allinger, will to Norman Bell, my physique, may he use it to his advantage.
- I, Holmes Bell, will to Forky Rose, my ability to be quiet in class.
- I, Irene Ashburn, will to Carol Vonderhuevel, all my jewelry to jingle in class.
- I, Damion Spicer, will to Ledona Haines, my pleasing smile.
- I, Thad Carr, will to John Watkins, my ability as a cartoon artist.
- I, Lois Baker, will to Sue Corkwell, my pretty dark curls.
- I, Carl Clay, will to Raymond Ball, my position as President of the class.
- I, Dan Purke, will to Don Blake, my way with the women.
- I, Donna Midlam, will to Betty Davis, my big brown eyes.
- I, Lloyd Thompson, will to Ronie Allinger, my ability to make points on the basketball team.
- I, Wayne Dorsey, will to Puny Russell, my weight.

- I, Roberta Rowley, will to Thelma Watkins, my ability of catching men.
I, Bob Heath, will to Jack Ashburn, my curly hair.
I, Bessie Brown, will to Phyllis Stryker, my bashfulness and ability to keep a sober face.
I, Bob Montgomery, will to Joyce Byrd, my pleasing personality.

Codicil To Will

- Item I. We bequeath to Bessie Brown this airplane. May this help you to take your soldiers from camp to camp.
Item II. We bequeath to Jeffrey Allinger this book on "How To Get Along With The Opposite Sex." We hope you can make good use of it in choosing your life partner.
Item III. We bequeath to Wayne Dorsey this trumpet. We want you to keep up with your cousins Jimmy and Tommy.
Item IV. We bequeath to Lois Baker this pan and box of cake mix. Remember farmers like good Bakers.
Item V. We bequeath to Carl Clay this television set. We already hear from you from coast to coast. Now we can have the pleasure of seeing you from coast to coast.
Item VI. We bequeath to Bob Heath this cow. We hope this cow will help you begin your practice as a veterinary.
Item VII. We bequeath to Irene Ashburn this bell. May this bell always remind you of your "Great Lover."
Item VIII. We bequeath to Damion Spicer this police badge. May it help you in becoming a patrolman.
Item IX. We bequeath to Lloyd Thompson this red tractor. It goes good with dark eyes and dark hair.
Item X. We bequeath to Dan Purke this bottle of wave set so that he may preserve his charming waves for the girls.
Item XI. We bequeath to Roberta Rowley this flashlight so she can see better by night.
Item XII. We bequeath to Holmes Bell this mallet to help you become Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.
Item XIII. We bequeath to Donna Midlam this "True Romance" magazine so you can keep your appeal with the opposite sex.
Item XIV. We bequeath to Bob Montgomery this wrench. We hear he is quite a mechanic.
Item XV. We bequeath to Thad Carr this cotton for his ears so he won't be so tempted to eavesdrop.

Signed by the Class of "51".

Class Poems

Smart, friendly, full of fun,
Soon their school days will be done.
Always loyal, always true,
Class of Fifty, here's to you!

Who's tongue is wagging fast and free?
Take a look! It's Carl you see!

When it comes to big words, Jeff needs no assistance.
But, ladies! Please! Keep your distance!

Donna takes pride in her looks and her clothes.
Not a hair's out of place nor a shine on her nose!

Dan's face was loved by just his mother,
Until he shaved and then---oh brother!

For Bob's charm and looks the girls do fall,
But he'd much rather play basketball.

Roberta's thoughts are always bright,
Unless she had a date last night.

To be a comedian is Thad's ambition.
But watch out, Thad. There's stiff competition.

Lloyd is lean, lanky and tall.
He's really sharp at basketball.

Irene's a gal who's really swell.
We've heard it said she rings the Bell.

Holmes is quiet but loads of fun.
He's really tops with everyone.

Wayne's hearty laugh and good disposition
Will see him through his future ambition.

Lois is sweet, pleasant and kind.
A truer friend you'll never find.

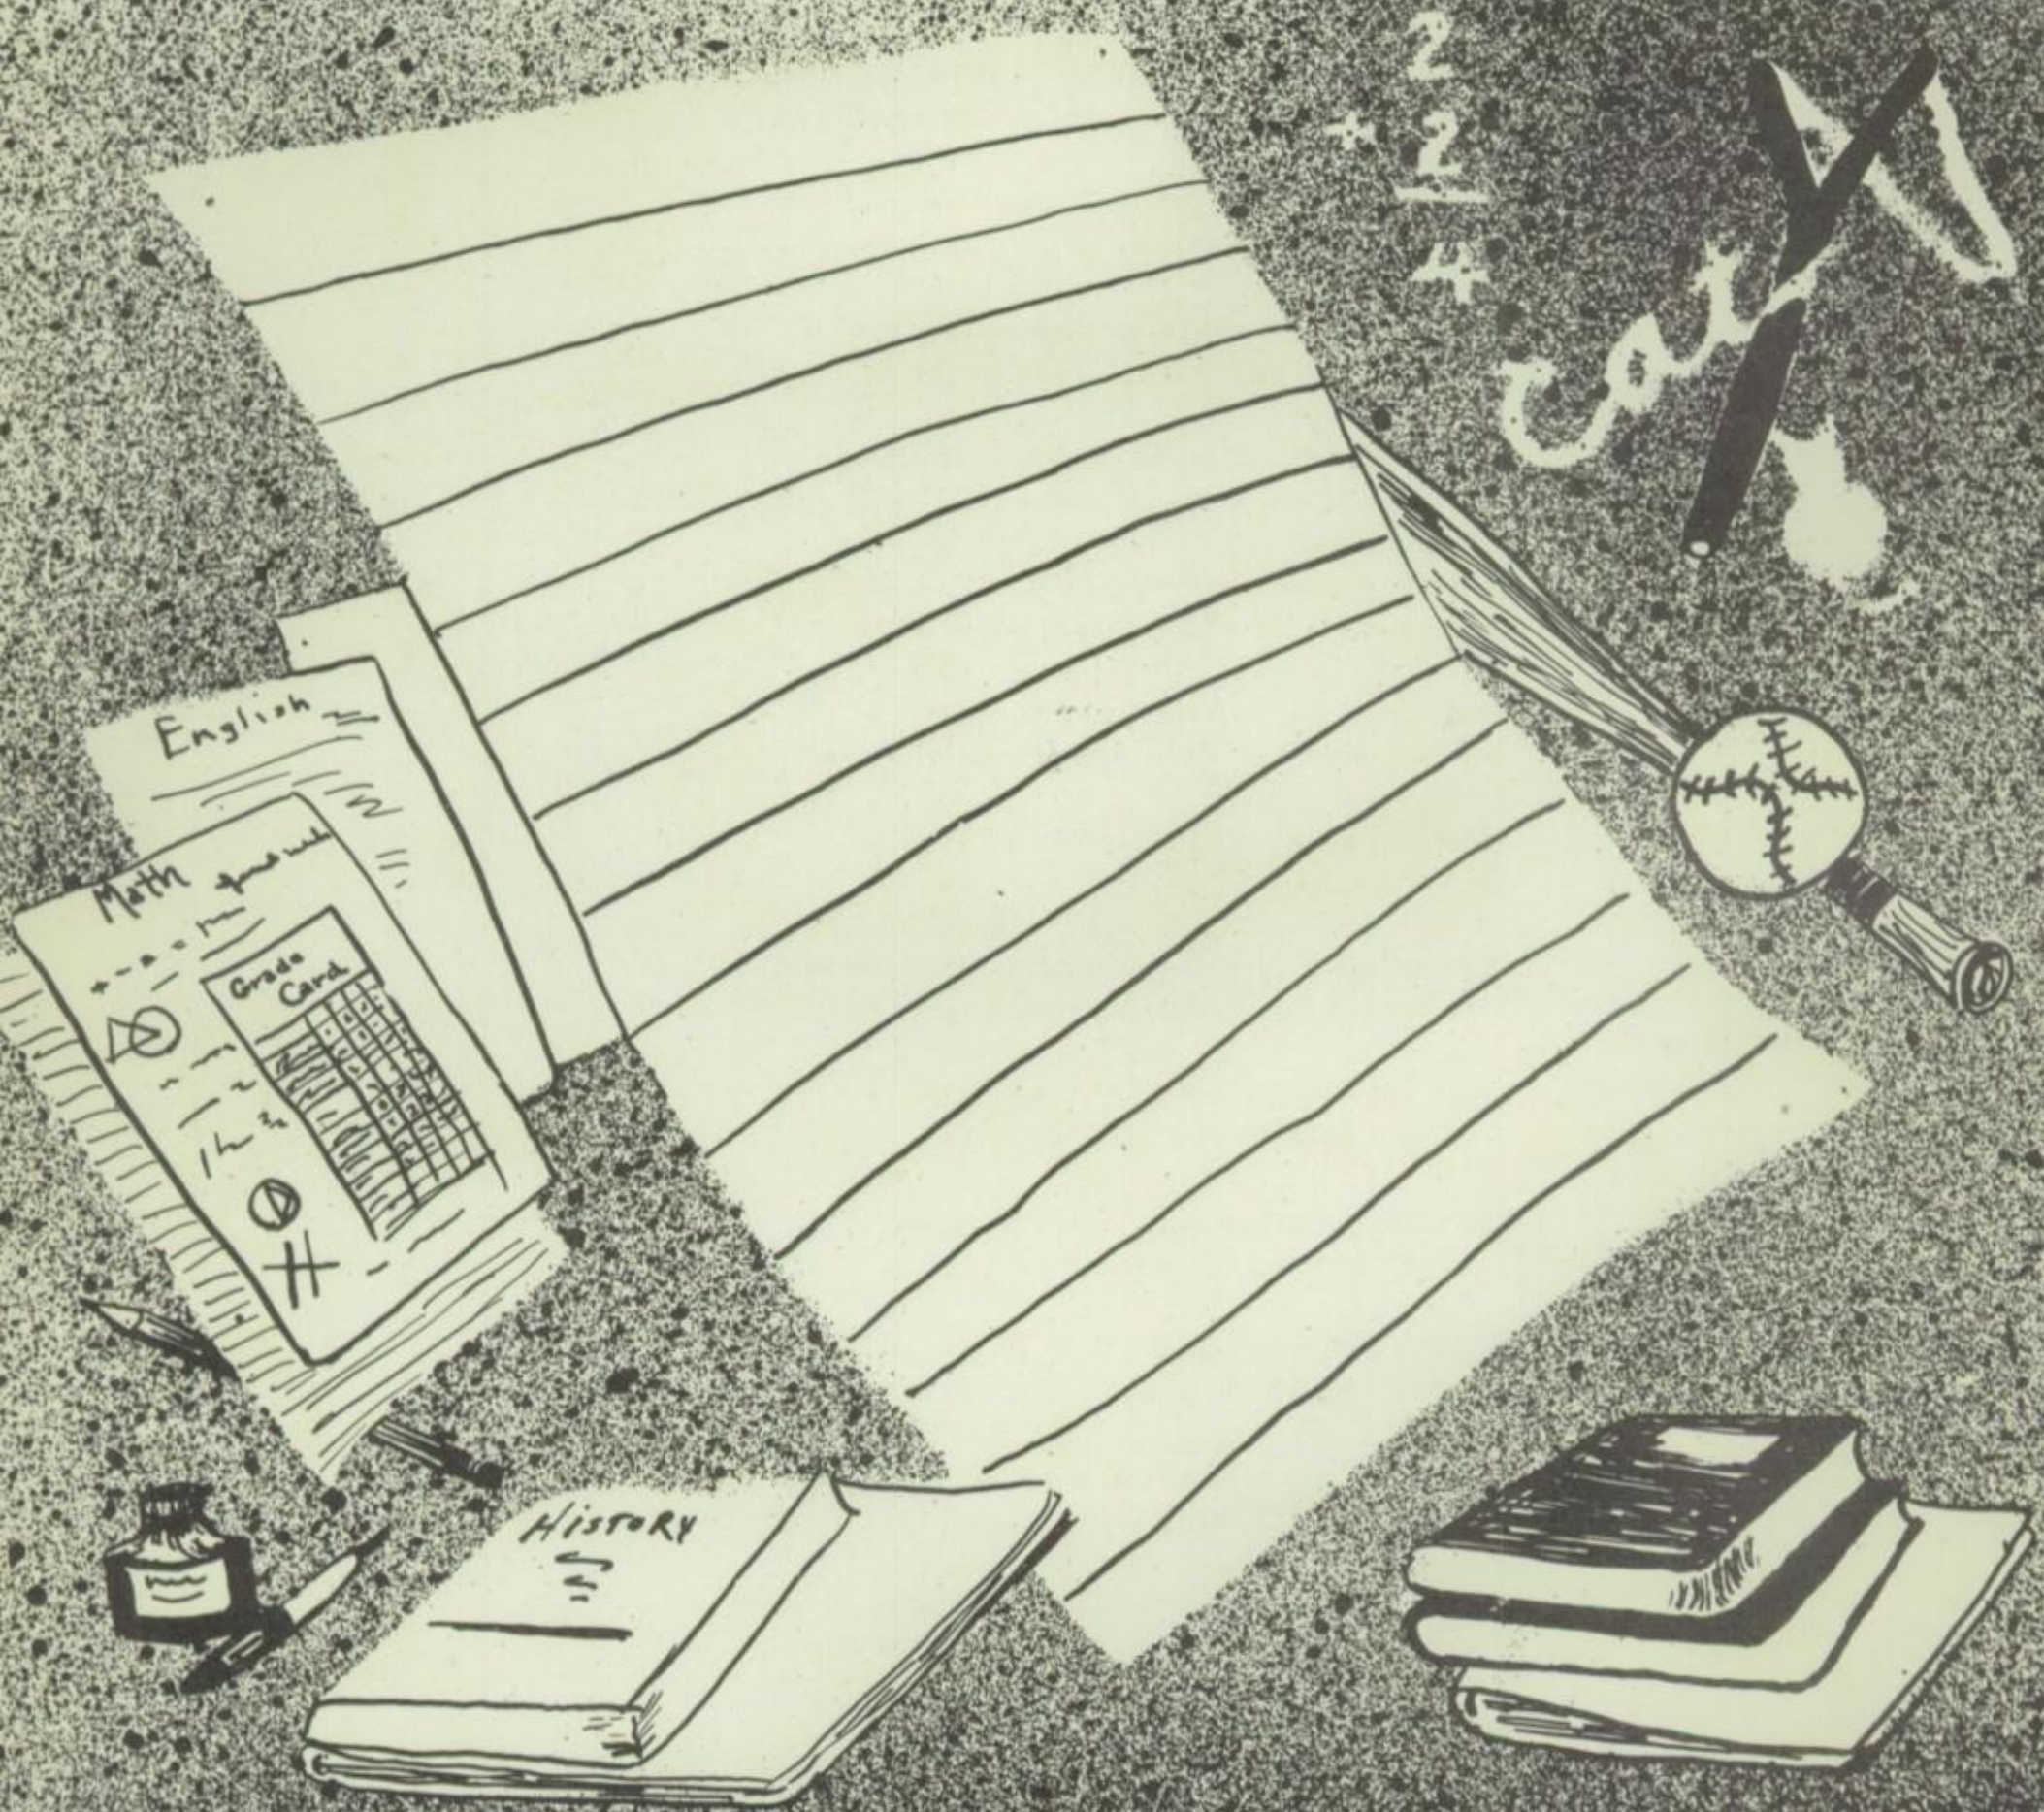

Damion is quiet and rather meek.
But get a load of that physique!

A devilish grin and curly hair.
That's Montpelier with his carefree air.

Bessie's a gal who is very proficient.
She knows all the answers and that is sufficient.

Each one is important, each lad and lass
That makes this fine co-operative class.
We wish you luck and great success,
And many years of happiness.

Homecoming

Queen of Quincy High School and her court was duly feted during the half-time of Quincy's homecoming basketball game with DeGraff, December 9, at the Quincy High School gymnasium.

Miss Lois Baker was crowned homecoming queen by Lloyd Thompson, the queen's escort and captain of the Quincy Trojans. Ronald Van Buskirk, captain of the DeGraff Pirates presented Miss Baker with a bouquet of roses. In the queen's court were Irene Ashburn, maid-of-honor, Janet Weeks and Ledona Haines, attendants.

The election of a homecoming queen and attendants grew out of the organization of two political parties, the Orange and the Black, at Quincy High School early this school year. After the parties were established Quincy students decided to elect a queen and court, and with each party nominating a candidate for queen from the Senior Class and an attendant from the Junior Class extensive campaigns were carried on for a week. On the various committees preparing for the homecoming celebration were: decorating committee Mary Siferd, chairman, Irene Ashburn, Ledona Haines, Janet Weeks and Thad Carr; court committee, Lloyd Thompson, chairman, Wayne Dorsey, Holmes Bell, Jeffery Allinger and Damion Spicer; flower committee, Miss Barbara Winget, Mrs. John McCoy, Irene Achburn and Lloyd Thompson.
